Daisy Bra Pattern.Effects of carbohydrate on the metabolism of aflatoxin in rats. The in vitro effects of carbohydrates on the metabolism of aflatoxin were studied in rat liver microsomes. Fermentation of glucose or fructose to aflatoxin B1 was not observed. An equivalent amount of lactate, butyrate, propionate, or acetate increased the conversion of aflatoxin to aflatoxin B1, in a dose-dependent manner. Increased aflatoxin B1 formation by lactate was due to an increase in the activity of glutathione S-transferase, which is thought to catalyze the detoxication of aflatoxin.
